NATIONAL GUARD NEWS.

Brigadier General George Moore Smith, commanding the 1st Brigade, will review the 7th Regiment, next Saturday night. For this occasion the regiment will parade in three battalions as follows: First Battalion, Lieutenant Colonel Wells, Companies C, D, H and F; 2d Battalion, Major Lanson, Companies A, K and G; 3d Battalion, Major Blocker, Companies B, E and I. The following non-commissioned officers have passed the examining board and have received their warrants: Battalion Sergeant Major L. H. Parker, Hospital Steward C. B. Spies, Quartermaster Sergeant G. V. Cambles, Corporals L. G. Fuller, H. W. Graham and F. C. Moore.

Former Captain Rhineland Waldo, of the Philippine Scouts, U. S. A., who resigned not long ago, has been unanimously elected first lieutenant of Company F of the 12th Regiment. He was appointed to the army as a lieutenant seven years ago, and served in the 17th Infantry before being appointed to the Philippine Scouts. Lieutenant Waldo had some very interesting experiences in the Philippines, and gained a valuable knowledge. Before joining the army he was an officer in the 12th Regiment.

Captain S. S. Stebbins, who commands Company F, in celebration of his recent election entertained the members of the company at the Colonial Theatre last Wednesday, and at supper after the performance. Company H has unanimously elected Bayard U. Livingston, from civil life, a second lieutenant. Company K has unanimously elected a second lieutenant in the person of Joseph F. Scott, from the 7th Regiment. A Lieutenant Lord, of Company E, entertained the officers and "non-coms" of the company very enjoyably at dinner a few nights ago. In the same company John J. Dix has been promoted first sergeant. Otto Ferro, quartermaster sergeant, and Privates J. F. McNeil, E. F. Picken, O. Brunsner and J. E. Moore corporals.

The resignation of Captain J. E. Wilson of Company E, 2d Regiment, has been forwarded, and an election for his successor will be held in about two weeks. It is understood that First Lieutenant Robert E. Cook will succeed to the captaincy. Company K will hold a euchar and dance at the armory on November 24. Battalion drills will be held on November 27 and 28.

The 47th Regiment at Creedmoor this season has qualified 49 marksmen, 42 sharpshooters, 10 experts and 14 distinguished experts.

A remarkably fine record has been made by the 1st Regiment in rifle shooting at Creedmoor this season. The regiment has qualified 60 marksmen, 207 sharpshooters, 127 experts and 72 distinguished experts. This is one of the best records in the State. Last year the regiment qualified 49 marksmen, 139 sharpshooters, 127 experts and 36 distinguished experts. The colonel's cup, for making the greatest percentage in marksmanship this year, has been won by Company H, commanded by Captain A. E. Wells.

Company I of the 22d Engineers has made a particularly fine showing in the marksmanship at Creedmoor for the season just ended. It has to its credit one-quarter of the qualifications in the entire regiment in the high grades, which are as follows: Two distinguished experts, 14 experts and 23 sharpshooters. The distinguished experts are Corporals Sullivan and Private Heppner. The experts are Lieutenants Smith, Sergeants Meyer and Edwards, Corporals Landon, Landon and Aherne, Privates Johnson, Cook, Deever, Edwards, Heppner, Hanna, Johnson, Kline, O'Shaughnessy, Schultheis, Van Campen, Wagner and Whelan. Company G has unanimously elected Corporal Sullivan a second lieutenant. He is a Spanish War veteran and one of the prominent shots of the regiment.

Company G, of the 6th Regiment, has a basketball and football team, which will play some interesting games during the season. In rifle practice at Creedmoor this year the regiment has made a particularly good showing, and has beaten all its records for a number of years past. It has qualified this year 38 distinguished experts, 4 experts, 11 sharpshooters and 40 marksmen, which is a total of 40. In 1904 the total qualifications were 354, and in 1903, 459.

The 14th Regiment will hold divine service in its armory some time next month, when the Rev. J. O. Wilson, the chaplain, will preach the sermon. It has been found that a much larger attendance results from holding the service in the armory than at church.

It is said to be likely that the 7th Regiment may make a trip to Canada next year, and the project will, it is expected, be put before the different companies during the present drill season. It is already spoken of with great favor. The Veterans Association of the regiment is very prosperous, and has a roll of fifteen hundred members, the largest number in its history. The president, Sergeant Nichols, of Company K, has been presented with a handsome silver loving cup, by members of the company, for his successful command. Sergeant Leonard, of Company B, has been elected quartermaster sergeant, and Privates

Walton and Bainbridge, of the same company have been elected lance corporals.

Lieutenant John M. Thompson, battalion adjutant of the 9th Regiment, who was elected captain of Company E a few nights since, over Lieutenant H. E. Kenyon, of Company B, who has been in command of the company temporarily, has declined to accept the office. The company is opposed to the election of Lieutenant Kenyon as captain, although Colonel Morris, it is understood, favors it, and considers him a promising candidate for the place. No other election is likely to be ordered for several weeks, it is said.

Major C. I. De Boevis, of Squadron C, hopes to be able to enter the new armory about February next. It will be one of the finest buildings for housing cavalry in the country.

Adjutant General Nelson Henry has accepted a review of the 4th Regiment for Saturday evening, December 3. Company B will hold an exhibition drill and dance at the armory to-morrow night.

RAP COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Hungarian Republicans to Investigate Its Conduct.

Ex-Governor Benjamin B. Odell and President Halpin of the New-York County Republican Committee were severely criticized at a meeting of the Hungarian Republican Club, held in the clubrooms, No. 75 24-ave., last night. Dr. Frederick L. Marshall, candidate for County Clerk on the Republican ticket in the recent election, president of the club, presided, and made several speeches, and Alfred R. Dittler, the Essex Market lawyer, acted as secretary.

The meeting finally ended with appointing unanimously a committee of three "to investigate the state of affairs in the Republican County Committee." This board consists of Dr. Marshall, Secretary Dittler and Marcus Braun.

The meeting was in the interest of "ballot reform," but it was in the end a mere "ballot reform" on the postal cards sent out to print the two other objects of the meeting and they were limited, although the club had by a formal vote decided to discuss the subject of a reformation in the method of registration as well as the affairs of the county committee.

Secretary Dittler told of a Republican leader who had told him and other members of the club that his instructions from Mr. Halpin, was to give out the badges for use on Election Day were to the effect: "Whatever you do today don't antagonize Tammany Hall. They are our friends in this election."

Mr. Dittler also denounced Mr. Halpin as "nothing more than a tool of the party." He said: "There are many disgruntled Republicans in this city to-night—men who have in good faith given their votes to the present county leader, who believe that they have been betrayed. And I believe with them that Governor Odell and Halpin have played them false, and it is our duty as Republicans to find out if the terrible thing is true. Of one thing I am convinced: It is our duty not to rest until the present county leader, Mr. Halpin, shall have been deposed from his present position."

Marcus Braun said there could be no doubt that the party had been misled, and he said it was the duty of the members of the party to find out what individuals were responsible for the steal.

HORNER'S, West 23d-st., call attention to special sales of imported furniture and upholstery arts. They have an exhibition of Elliott eight day clocks.

M'HUGH, No. 9 West 42d-st., invites attention to furniture, carpets, rugs, upholstery stuffs, parlor hangings and poster pictures, also a variety of things suitable for gifts.

LORD & TAYLOR, Broadway and 20th-st., call attention to a special sale of silk petticoats in black, colored and white taffeta; eiderdown wrappers, bound with satin ribbon in pink, blue, gray, red and lavender.

BEST & CO., West 23d-st., have special sales of infants' wear—French handmade caps, eiderdown caps, bear cloth turbans, besides a variety of makes in underwear, crib spreads and sheets, pillows, bath and woolen blankets and rubber goods.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO., Broadway and 19th-st., call attention to their special sales of chifon broadcloths and velvets, a recent importation of rose pinks and reds in light and medium tones, also, shades of American beauty, ruby, raspberry, bordeaux, burgundy, dahlia and new greens.

LE BOUTILLIER BROTHERS, West 23d-st., have special sales this week of fall importations of women's Swiss ribbed underwear, comprising vests, corset covers, nightgowns and combination suits of silk, silk and wool, silk and cotton and cashmere.

A. D. MATTHEWS' SONS, Brooklyn, call attention to their special sale of twenty-eight miles of carpets and 5,000 rugs—Oriental and domestic.

THE INSPIRATION OF THE KNABE

A good piano is an inspiration—a delight to its possessor. The every day condition of a piano has much to do with the encouragement or discouragement of the performer. The preference shown by the world's leading pianists for the Knabe, strongly testifies to its sustained excellence. In buying the Knabe YOU KNOW you are getting the best in pianos. This surely is worth a few additional dollars in the initial cost of a piano.

We invite your inspection of many new styles in grand and uprights received at our ware-rooms during the past week.

WORK AT TUSKEGEE.

Booker Washington at White House
—Few Graduates Go Wrong.

[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, Nov. 11.—Booker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Ala., called at the White House this afternoon to invite the President to attend a directors' meeting of a colored school at Manassas, Va., which is to be held at Washington next February.

President Roosevelt said he would attend if public business did not interfere. Mr. Washington said that the President's recent visit to Tuskegee had done the institute a great deal of good, both in the encouragement given to the students themselves and in the favorable impression made upon the country at large. "In his speech at Tuskegee," said Mr. Washington, "the President expressed the wish that some one would go forth among the graduates of our school, into the various walks of life they have followed, for the purpose of learning just what percentage improve their opportunities and what percentage do not. We have a man employed who follows the careers of the students in just this way, or, at any rate, as near this way as one man can who remains in a single place. His records show that about 90 per cent of the graduates of Tuskegee do well. Ten per cent disgrace themselves and their school. Considering everything, however, I think the percentage of successes is very large and proves the worth of the institute."

"Do not the students of Tuskegee encounter a great deal of opposition from the labor unions?" Mr. Washington was asked. "Not in the South," he replied. "In some parts of the country the colored man is opposed by the unions, but in the South he is aided. In many Southern towns there are two branches, working hand in hand—the white and the colored. The president of the white union and the president of the colored union get together for consultation over all important matters relating to the welfare of their organizations, and invariably come to an amicable agreement. If the colored man had no more serious troubles to encounter than the opposition of the labor unions he might well be thankful."
